ABOUT STEPS TO END DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Founded in 1974, and formerly known as Women Helping Battered Women, they are a prevention and advocacy organization dedicated to helping those who have experienced domestic violence achieve safety and independence.

Last year, they served 5,086 individuals. Of those served, 2,119 were adults and 2,967 were children impacted by domestic violence.

MISSION: To assist in the transition to a safe, independent life for all those who have been affected physically, sexually, emotionally, or economically by domestic abuse and to promote a culture that fosters justice, equality and safety.

Note: They also served 2,193 adults and children for whom their town of residence was not reported. Due to the sensitive nature of domestic violence and the need for privacy among victims, many who reach out to Steps to End Domestic Violence choose to remain anonymous. Therefore, it should be assumed that the numbers for each town are under-reported here.
